Hi everyone,

If you haven't yet booked your place at the SE HCS Conference, we still have some spaces. I have attached details of the event + an agenda for your reference.

Also to remind you of the photography competition that we will be running on the day, all entrants will have their photo printed and displayed, and you could be in a chance of winning a £50 voucher! Details are attached on how you can enter.

Kind Regards
Puja

Dear All,

Please see the attached poster and booking instructions for the South East Healthcare Science Conference 2023 on the 7th of June. There are limited places allocated to each ICS therefore please register as soon as possible. Feel free to cascade within your staff groups as appropriate.

I have also attached information about a Healthcare Science Photo competition taking place for this conference. This is an opportunity to showcase the work of your department and allow others to discover more about your specialism.

Please don't hesitate to contact me if you have any questions.

Kind Regards
Puja Patel
