Paper: Spring 2019 CPD Questions

Personal Reflection:

Both papers were extremely interesting to read.

The first paper about the outcomes of Endovenous Laser Ablation was of interest to me professionally as we are involved in this treatment particularly on patients with ulcers and is was very interesting reading the outcomes for those patients as from a scanning point of view we don't get to follow patients up and see if they benefit from the procedure.

The paper about venous stenting was very informative and interesting to read as this is a something that is being performed in Leicester more often and so it was good to read the article.
