Paper: Summer 2021 CPD Questions

Personal Reflection:

Both studies have the potential to be directly applicable to practice. The conclusions of the second paper, concerning the safety of excluding small ( $< 4$  cm) AAA from the surveillance programme in the  $> 80$  year olds has the potential to reduce workload. Automating fistula scanning to some degree would be a boon, allowing fistula scanning to be carried out by less experience staff but would require careful validation
