

Veni Ramachandran has completed this personal reflection on 04/05/2023

Paper: Winter 2022/23 CPD questions

Personal Reflection:

I found both scientific articles informative and interesting. Both papers provide valuable, research information in the field we work in. I understand there is still more to read and learn. I feel it is important to keep improving our knowledge by staying in touch with current research/studies and to continue learning, this is essential to improving patient care and services.